Purpose:

While doing this project, I learn a lot about oop subject and also my searching abilities for learning improved a lot. Unfortunately because of my past shortcomings on previous projects, I wasn't experienced enough to finish the project on time but I tried my best to do as much as I could.

I will try my best to complete it till the presentation day and also make up for my shortcomings till the end of this semester.

Process :

The first thing I did was writing the (admin, user, seller, product) separately and then I did some research on writing the login and sign up and editing info methods. And I wrote then I wrote these methods for each of them in user service class. Then I wrote option menu to create a menu of options for the users and call the login and sign up methods. Then I added a menu for each user in userMenu class, I also wrote category, subcategory, product service and wallet closes but unfortunately I haven't finished them yet.

Mistakes:

The biggest mistake I made was creating user and seller class separately but seller should have been a child method for user and that cost me a lot of time to editing most of my methods.

Another mistake was using next input in a wrong place.
